MEDICAL.

UNFORTUNATE.

Gibbon's Dispensary,

623 KEARNEY STREET,

SAN FRANCISCO, CAL.

Has the pleasure of announcing to the afflicted and unfortunate, that he has returned from visiting the principal cities of the East, and has resumed the practice of his profession at his old parlors, where he may be consulted daily and nightly, as usual, on all diseases requiring skill and experience.

Horrible Diseases.

Thousands of persons both male and female are suffering under the affects of secret indulgence, contracted before they arrive at the years of maturity, or the enjoyment of married life, producing nervousness, dimness of sight, weakness of the limbs, pains in the back, dizziness, confusion of ideas, loss of memory, universal lassitude, and many of the symptoms of consumption, insanity, etc. Let parents, guardians, and others who are suffering under the affects of secret indulgence, consult DR. GIBBON a physician of many years' standing, before it be too late. DR. GIBBON has especial study for all those diseases that are the most prevalent, and which destroy more victims than all other diseases combined. He would call the attention of the unfortunate and afflicted to the fact that he has devoted his whole time to the study of these diseases, and has had more experience in the treatment of them than any other physician in this city. Many who are afflicted with these diseases call on quacks and pretended doctors, who, by exhibiting large and worthless diplomas from Europe, and other countries, and by imposing upon the public by their pretended skill in curing all diseases, obtain a living by preying upon the misfortunes of their victims. Many of these pretended physicians are graduates from Europe, but they are graduates from the hells of Europe, and should be carefully avoided by all who may fall into the hands of them.

Sexual Weakness.

Impotency, the consequence of self-abuse, is one of the most terrible diseases that ever afflicted the human family. Young men, the consequence of your indiscretions may be shame, sorrow and disappointment. Are you deprived of sexual power, or are you troubled with nightly emissions, which are sapping the very foundation of your constitution, producing many of the symptoms of consumption, such as a cough, pain in the side, back or limbs, loss of memory, dimness of sight, dizziness, nervousness, blotches on the face, a dislike to society, or the blushing of a bride, which renders you miserable, and unfits you for the enjoyment of life? If you have any of the above symptoms, you may rest assured that the destroying demon is at work upon your system, and unless you apply the remedy that will restore you to perfect health, you will soon be a victim to that fell disease, Consumption, and an early grave will close your miserable existence. Many who have committed this secret habit, through ignorance of the consequences, are now living in the married state, unconscious of the cause of their present ill health, such as weakness of the limbs, pains in the back, dimness of sight, nervousness, universal lassitude, etc., when a few months previous to their marriage, they were enjoying the most perfect health. To such persons, before entering into the married state, a consultation with DR. GIBBON is indispensable, as a few months attendance will restore them to perfect health, and enable them to perform the duties of the married state with pleasure to themselves and happiness to their companions. Let parents, guardians, and others who are suffering under the affects of secret indulgence, consult DR. GIBBON before it be too late. DR. Prayer was offered by Rev J H Monk of this city

The journal was read and approved

Leave of absence was given to Mr Stannard on motion of Mr Riddle on account of sickness

The SPEAKER announced a communication from the Portland Board of Trade, which was read

To the Honorable the Legislative Assembly of the State of Oregon The petition of the Board of Trade of Portland humbly shows that the condition of affairs in this State and its present position is stagnant it is a large proportion of its population that with out the means of business of all kinds within and in making research in that the establishment of manufactories will be impracticable and the burden of taxes will fall heavily on the few For many years to come that the construction of a railroad to connect Oregon with the Eastern States is the only practical means of relieving this State from its present situation and of rapidly acquiring population that the experience of all the Western States during the past nine years gathered from published statistics is that the population has increased from one hundred to nine hundred per cent shortly after the introduction of railways one State—that of Kansas—having increased from 10 000 to 100 000 the bulk of whom had gone there in four years that your petitioners while they are in favor of any railway that may give the direct eastern connection are of the opinion that the construction of the Portland Salem and Salt Lake Railroad would benefit a large section of Oregon and be more to the direct interest of this community than that of any other line contemplated that in virtue of the vital importance of this connection they would earnestly recommend that substantial aid be granted to assist in the construction of this road believing that the increased wealth and population which this wealth would create would tend to lessen the amount of individual taxation and be of great and substantial benefit to the whole State That among the advantages to be derived from the construction of this railway would be a large and permanent increase of population and influx of capital the successful establishment of manufactories a constant supply of skilled farm labor an enhanced value of land throughout the State and a material reduction of individual taxation

Your petitioners therefore recommend that the Honorable Legislative Assembly of the State of Oregon should as a measure of the first importance amend the act passed at the last session granting the swamp lands and the five per cent fund for aid of the construction of certain sections of the P & S L & R that the consideration for the work to be performed in any is available as the progress shall not exceeding in any one year after the work is completed the sum of $400 000 annum, for a longer period than twenty years (provided that the Congressional aid now asked for be granted) and that the State appropriate a sufficient sum of money to defray the preliminary expenses of prosecuting this enterprise. And your petitioners will ever pray

Given under my hand and the seal of the Board of Trade Portland Oregon by instruction of the Board H W CORBETT President Board of Trade

MEMORIALS TO CONGRESS

He ther introduced H J M No 3 as follows

Your memorialists the Legislative Assembly of the State of Oregon would respectfully represent and request for aid in the construction of the P & S L & R R simply adding that the importance of the proposed road is becoming more apparent both as a great national highway from the Atlantic to the Pacific Northwest and as affording the only route to the seaboard for the products of the vast area of country including Idaho Eastern Oregon Washington and Western Montana.

Your memorialists further pray your honorable body the Congress of the United States to grant to the Portland Dalles and Salt Lake Railroad Company the right of way and lands for depot stations etc for a branch road from some point on the main line in the vicinity of Baker City through Grant county by the head waters of the Santiam to an intersection of the Oregon and California Railroad not further north than Harrisburg in Linn county and such other aid in the construction of the said branch road as may be reasonable and just.

Your memorialists state as a reason for making this request that the said branch road will open and make accessible a large district of country in the southern part of Oregon interspersed with valuable agricultural and grazing lands and rich in mineral deposits The line of the proposed branch road lies centrally through the State from east to west, and will give direct connection between the Willamette valley and the vast interior country east of the Cascade range of mountains, and also affords an outlet eastward and westward for the population of agriculturists and miners forming on the proposed branch road

Your memorialists have no hesitation in expressing the opinion that the construction of the proposed branch road by reason of its opening the public lands to settlement and disposal and developing the rich mineral districts of Eastern Oregon would amply and fully reimburse the United States for its reasonable outlay for the General Government in the construction of the proposed branch road

Your memorialists further represent that the main line of the Portland Dalles and Salt Lake road once constructed the proposed road would give direct communication with the Union Pacific Railroad for the Atlantic States and with other railroads diverging north and south from the Salt Lake basin

Mr STOTT introduced H J M No 10

To the honorable the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled Your petitioners the Legislative Assembly of the State of Oregon now in session would respectfully represent to your honorable bodies—

That the great length of voyage between the ports in our State and Liverpool renders it unsafe and impracticable to ship our grain in bulk and we are compelled to use sacks for the shipment of all the cereal produce of our State that these sacks are made of burlap which is manufactured from jute the use of burlap which is manufactured from jute none of which is found in this country and is not extensively used in the United States (except along the Pacific coast and there is no burlap manufactured in this country

That in this State there is used annually for the purpose of shipping a million and a half of these sacks and our farmers pay a duty thereupon both the burlap and jute of thirty per centum amounting to a tax of fifty thousand dollars per annum which is added to the many other unjust taxes imposed upon the producers of our excellent products without value

Wherefore your memorialists would most humbly petition your honorable bodies to so modify your duty laws as to exempt burlaps made of jute and the manufacture thereof from duty and as in duty bound we will ever pray

Mr SCOTT said this was one of many cases where the U S laws core hard upon Oregon In the Eastern States they ship their wheat in bulk, but that is impracticable in this coast Vessels will not take it because they cannot get insurance Our farmers are therefore compelled to use sacks in the manufacture of which these articles of burlaps and jute—have been used In the case of the latter imported articles are used in the shipment of our products directly back to the country whence the article were brought at 4 cents per yard there should be a reduction of 10 cents All the money paid as duty on these articles is me out of the farmers in the end and the tax of 30 per cent was very burdensome

H B 7—to require parties to give an undertaking for costs and disbursements in courts of records in certain cases. The bill failed to pass

The Dalles Mountaineer says We paid a visit to our city cemetery a few days ago and were much pleased to notice the many pretty new monuments that have been erected since our last visit Our attention was particularly attracted to the one lately erected over the grave of Mr John Worsley by his children It is of gray sandstone some 10 or 12 feet in height The lettering is well and beautifully cut Taken altogether it is one of the finest pieces of work in the country The monument was made by Mr I G Hawkins of Portland and we understand that the cost delivered on the boat at Portland was only one hundred dollars.

Mr Taylor of Corvallis who has just made a survey of Alsea valley thus speaks of it in the Democrat The people of the Alsea valley are a sober industrious class who have taken themselves homes in the wilderness and by industry have opened up farms but who are yet too poor to build roads and properly develop their valley The upper Alsea is a fine farming country, unsurpassed for fertility and healthfulness by any portion of the Pacific coast while the lower Alsea is heavily timbered with inexhaustible forests of cedar fir, spruce and other kinds of timber sufficient to furnish a large amount of lumber for export for generations to come The bay is really a fine harbor sufficiently commodious for all coasting vessels, is easy of access, and secure

WESTERN WASHINGTON INDUSTRIAL ASSOCIATION

FOURTH ANNUAL EXHIBITION

OLYMPIA October 9 1874

A dense fog hung over this city this morning until a late hour when the rays of the sun caused it to lift, and by noon we were again wafted into the middle of summer

I find that the temperance ladies after considerable trouble and expense have succeeded in establishing a temperance restaurant on Main street connected with which is a reading room library supplied with books papers, periodicals games of checkers chess etc under the supervision of Mr a young man who seems well adapted to the position being both obliging and attentive to all It has been a notorious fact that for many years the want of such a place was felt by many especially those who wished to be social outside of liquor saloons, but until the present success it has been wanting although there is a good free reading room and library attached to the Good Templars Hall which is generally well patronized yet being off the main street prevents a good many visitors from attending during the evening

The Fair last evening was crowded to excess from 7 till 9 o clock at which time the majority began to move toward Tacoma Hall where a dance took place for the benefit of the Industrial Association the music being furnished by the band from the Fair and was kept up with spirit until midnight

I shall now proceed to discuss the merits of classes 8 and 11 from where I was forced to break off yesterday on account of the lateness of the hour I find here a school of songs compiled from standard song books by Mr J F Clark which are intended for the benefit of the Olympia Public School No 1 The printing was done at the job office of Mr R H Hewitt and is altogether a very creditable piece of work The only other samples of printing visible was a case of cards circulars etc from the Courier office Mr Geo White of Tumwater has some very fine specimens of book binding on exhibition, which can hardly be excelled anywhere

Mrs Lizzie Phillips and Mrs McConnell exhibit some beautiful specimens of white wax work

Among the curiosities are arrows taken from the Blackfeet Indians a pair of snow shoes an ordinary sized hen egg with a goose egg some very handsome bouquets by Mrs Mossman mats made by the Hydah Indians at Fort Wrangell, Alaska arrow heads and fire stick taken from Apache Indians in Arizona and exhibited by W H Roberts, of Olympia specimens of the Photocrome picture an entirely new process of retouching Mrs Jane Wiley exhibits a specimen of penmanship executed in 1821 Quite a number of wreaths and pictures are displayed by Mrs Giddings an autumn wreath composed of pressed leaves by Minnie Mossman, a girl 11 years old a handsome worsted wreath, and a small painting on glass by Nelly Frost, aged 10 years two worsted wreaths by Lucy Munson both creditable to a child of 11 years one of them being exhibited in a frame of seed work made by Miss Josie Munson which is very perfect in all its details It is pleasant to find children taking such an interest in these matters and this is a matter which should be generally encouraged as we look to the rising generation for the accomplishment of what we have begun I shall now proceed to class ten

FANCY WORK &c

In surveying this department, a person must naturally be struck with astonishment when they examine the beautiful goods coming to us from the hand of woman and it seems that from the patience and perseverance so especial in their handiwork, they should hold the highest rank amongst mankind generally I would like to see the man who could not patiently for hours and days and weeks and months working at crochet patch work knitting netting and all that sort of thing, more complicated in my estimation than all the problems in Euclid and how little thanks a woman gets for her labor If a man received as little I presume he would go on a bender I think it would be well for some of our Legislators and old fogies who have so many brains that they find themselves unable to utter a thought when called on it would be well for those men to think seriously on the rights of woman and do what they can to improve her condition somewhat

Amongst the fancy and other work exhibited, I find many patchwork quilts some very handsome and one made by Miss Viola Kinsey, containing 5,504 pieces There are so many of this class of goods that it would be impossible to name them all so I shall merely refer to them casually Here is a sofa pillow of silk patch work containing dried rose leaves (what a pleasant thing for a man to lay his head on and dream of his lady love—ahem) Mrs Persival exhibits a pair of hose knit by her mother who is 86 years old Then comes a sampler worked in 1810 ladies purse of hose knit by Mrs Parsons, 73 years old a beautiful assortment of bead and other work by Mrs A J Littlejohn of Olympia lacework by Mrs Guttenberg of Seattle, and a handsome handkerchief box and other articles by Miss Etta Whitworth of the same place paper frames paper mats, worsted work of all kinds handsome baby blanket, by Mrs Ross of Snohomish By the way, talking of babies, I would recommend the Association to advertise a baby show for next year and we will find the Territory well represented. I think One piece of work drew considerable attention during the Fair, and was highly praised it is a crochet bed quilt, and contains amongst other things a farm house, a dog surrounded by yellow jackets who is rapidly making strides for the insumption 'Home, Sweet Home,' two rabbits two birds, together with a border of flowers all most exquisitely defined it is the work of Mrs Middlestadt, of Snohomish, and is a most creditable affair A stool is exhibited covered with worsted work made by the first sewing society of Olympia, in 1854

The tapestry by Mrs A J Littlejohn is also well deserving of notice as also several specimens of crochet work by Miss L Bateman, both of Olympia A patch work is also displayed the work of a blind woman Domes tic yarn is exhibited by Mrs Ryder and Mrs Davis Mrs Alice Bagley also exhibits some very pretty specimens of crochet work I noticed a quilt for sale for $25 for which I think $12 would be a more suitable price

At 1 o clock the Olympia Light Guard Band commenced playing at Tacoma Hall, which was soon filled for the purpose of hearing the annual address delivered by the

HON SEWOOD EVANS

This was as predicted a fine display of oratory, and I only regret not being able to give it in full as it deserves

The honorable gentleman spoke for over an hour and I think succeeded in placing the merits of the Association fairly and fully before his audience, and I trust that by next year the Society may be in as flourishing a condition as all States they've got to be If the cost of supporting it is but a trifle compared to the grand results which must inevitably flow from it

During the delivery of the address the children of the public schools were a invited to the exhibition free, and the little ones seemed well pleased with everything especially the candy manufactory of Messrs Piper & Maydenbauer of Seattle which seemed like a live of trees as long as the candy pulling continued

I noticed to day a barrel of lime manufactured by Messrs Bailey and McCurdy of San Juan and exhibited by their agent Mr Robert Frost This is said to be some of the best lime ever presented for exhibition here or elsewhere I shall have to defer a further report till to-morrow when the Fair will probably close

Last week while driving along the road Mr Reuben Booton who resides near Bridgeport in Polk county, met with a serious accident It seems that his team became frightened at some object in the road and ran away The wagon was overturned and Mr Booton was thrown several feet from the wagon His collar bone was broken, and he received several other bruises on his body

THE LINN COUNTY FAIR

THE NINTH ANNIVERSARY OF THE LINN COUNTY AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY

Fifth Day

ALBANY October 10 1874

The pacing race yesterday mile heats best three in five for $200, by Gird's Shoo Fly and Montgomery's Sconchin took place at 2 P M The first heat was won by Shoo Fly Time—3 02½ In the second heat Sconchin was distanced by Shoo Fly although the former has the reputation of being the best pacer at the fair The time of the second heat was 2 37 The public are of opinion that this was the most barefaced sell during the Fair as yet

The running race at 3 P M, mile heats best 2 in 3 for $150 second horse to get $50 gave great satisfaction to the public, in which they took great interest considering the attendance There were three entries and all ran W Gird's Buckskin got the inside track M L White's Norway drew the second place and D Young's Bill Bigham got the outside Before starting Mr Gird appeared before the judges and endeavored to make the impression on them that the other two parties in the race had conspired together, by the tricks known to some jockeys to beat his horse The judges to please him, called up the riders and told them the report they had just heard and cautioned them to ride on the square. The riders of Bill Bigham replied, that he would try and win the race and get the money which he did in part as the result will show The conspiracy ended in Norway winning the race in two straight heats and Bill Bigham getting the second money by a square running in the opinion of the judges

After three foul starts the fourth attempt was successful for the first heat The horses kept well together in their respective places, only a w

THE FEES OF THE POLICE JUDGE.

Our readers will recollect that some days since, in reply to an article in the Bulletin wherein it was stated the Supreme Court had decided that the Legislature could not constitutionally reduce the fees to be charged by the Police Judge when acting as Justice of the Peace, unless by a general act applicable alike to all Justices of the Peace, we questioned the existence of any such decision. The Bulletin next morning admitted that possibly its statement of the decision had been inaccurate, but declared such would be the decision if the question should arise, citing in support of its position the provision of the Constitution of the State, that no "special or local law" shall be passed by the Legislature, regulating the jurisdiction and duties of Justices of the Peace and Constables." How that provision could affect the right to pass a special law regulating the fees of Justices of the Peace or Constables, we could and cannot perceive. The fees of a Justice are no part of his jurisdiction, nor of his duties. No lawyer would say that a law changing the fees of all the Justices of the State, changed the jurisdiction of Justices' Courts. The proposition is too absurd for argument. And in vain will the Constitution be searched for any other provision affecting the question. There is not the shadow of a doubt of the power of the Legislature in the premises. The matter is a very plain and simple one. The Legislature may pass any law not inhibited by the Constitution; the Constitution contains no inhibition of the power to regulate the fees of a Justice of the Peace by special or local law; therefore the Legislature may exercise the power. That is all there is of it, and all that can be made of it.

Now a little more about the decision of the Supreme Court. We have taken some pains to find out what the Court did decide, and it is just as we stated it before. At that time we only inferred what it must have been from the nature of the case; but it turns out our inference was strictly correct. The question of constitutional power was not touched in the case, nor discussed by the Judges. The only question was one of construction of the language of the act amending the city charter, and the Court went no further than to decide that question. Let the Legislature do its duty now, and cut off four or five thousand dollars of the fees of our Police Judge, by making him pay them into the city treasury, and they will deserve and receive the thanks of nine-tenths of all the tax-payers of this city, and do no injustice.

FEMALE SUFFRAGE AND THE FOURTEENTH AMENDMENT.

Some of the speakers in the House of Representatives, in course of the discussion of the bill to secure the right of suffrage to women, quoted Judge Deady as authority for the proposition that the right is conferred by the Fourteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States. So far is this from the truth, he has decided the question the other way. In the case of McKay vs. Campbell, reported in Sawyer's Court Reports, Judge Deady held that the Fourteenth Amendment makes no restriction upon the powers of the States over the subject of the right of suffrage, except to inhibit the exclusion of any person from the right of suffrage, on account of race, color, or previous condition of servitude, expressly declaring the State might still make sex a ground of disqualification. This is the first case in which the question was forced. Afterward the Supreme Court of the United States held the same in re Myra Broadwell. The fact is, there is but one side to the legal question. Notwithstanding what Ben Butler and Judge Somebody-or-other out West, may have said on the subject for political effect (ah, we believe, are the authorities commonly cited), we repeat what we said a year ago, that the question scarcely admits of discussion, so wholly devoid of merit is it upon any principle of Constitutional interpretation.

Why do not the woman suffragists begin at the beginning and work up their case upon its inherent merits? is a question we have never been able to solve. They have certainly strong grounds for the demand for equality before the law, and it is extremely doubtful whether there was ever a case in which equality was not good policy for a republican government, or whether there ever will be such a case.

THE WAY CHICAGO DEFIES THE INSURANCE COMPANIES.

From the tone of the Chicago papers, when they speak of the action of the National Insurance Board in withdrawing from that city, one would be justified in supposing the Chicagoans considered the room of the insurance companies better than their company. Their resolution to withdraw is spoken of as a matter that signifies exactly nothing to Chicago, and it is declared the companies that consent to be governed by the Board, will soon be coming for the privilege of taking risks in Chicago, as hitherto they have done. But when one reads the proceedings of the Common Council of that city, the case takes on another aspect. It will be remembered that the cause of the resolution of the Board to take no more risks in Chicago, was the alleged want of a sufficient water supply, and of fire-extinguishing apparatus adequate to the requirements of such a city. By reference to the proceedings of the Council of the city, it appears that for the express purpose of removing the objections of the insurance people and securing their return, the Council are about to pass an ordinance appropriating the modest little sum of $1,500,000 for the purchase of additional fire engines, and the equally modest sum of $500,000 for the laying of additional water mains. That is to say, Chicago does not care a straw whether the Eastern insurance companies take risks upon her brick and mortar or not, but when they notify her that they will take no more such risks unless she will first expend $764,000 in making the risks less risky, she immediately goes to work to comply with the conditions. No, no; Chicago don't care, Not she!

THE RING OPPOSE THE WINNEMUCCA ROAD.

The disposition shown by Hirsch, of this county, to oppose the Winnemucca railway bill in the Senate, indicates pretty clearly what Mr. Holladay's purposes were in his trip to Salem. He desires the defeat of the bill. If it were not so, Hirsch would not be found opposing it. When it comes to a vote Dolph also will be found against it, unless Holladay concludes before that time that he cannot defeat it, and hence would better give it a formal support.

There is something hidden in the opposition of these gentlemen. They have some secret game by which they hope to put the people of the State more completely under the feet of the railway ring, and their scheme would be thwarted by the building of the Winnemucca road. We should think the people of the State have seen and felt so much of the results of the management of Mr. Holladay and his political tools, to count upon their opposition to any and all measures that are designed for the good of the State at large, and which promise no personal advantage to the ring of stock-jobbers. Their opposition ought to be considered a recommendation to a measure.

BUTLER SECURES HIS NOMINATION.

Butler wins again in the race for Congressional nomination, but not in his own district this time. He has discretion enough to know when he is worn out in one place and to remove to another. His success in the caucuses is not a very encouraging evidence of the earnestness with which the Republican party of Massachusetts are seeking to establish a higher standard of morals in politics. In all the ranks of the party there is not another man who so completely represents to the mind of the American people the most advanced immorality in political principle as B. F. Butler. The people of the district that nominates him should see to it that his opponent is as good a representative of the honest and virtuous sentiment of the country, as Butler is of the opposite sentiment, and then they should elect their candidate at the polls. That would be the best possible rebuke to the ring that forces Butler's nomination, and the best possible vindication of their own honor.

Germany and Denmark are disputing over Schleswig again. For a whole generation that patch of earth has been the subject of almost continuous negotiations and misunderstandings between these two powers. Whenever they are not too much engrossed with more important difficulties, they are at work complicating and involving themselves in diplomatic endeavors to chent each other out of some imaginary right to govern Schleswig. It would be exceedingly unfortunate for the two powers concerned, and for the newsmongers as well, if anything should be done that would set this matter finally at rest. It furnishes employment in dull times to a great many people, and is perfectly harmless.

The Independent says the warehouse monopoly by Col. Cornelius still goes on at the station. No wheat can be shipped save through his establishment. And if you have to leave your wheat in his warehouse three days he will charge you up three cents a bushel.

GRAND EXPOSITION
NEW GOODS,
At the Store of
BRADLEY, MARSH & CO.,
Extensive Shipments to Arrive
Ex "JOHN L. STEPHENS" AND "AJAX."

THE FOLLOWING LETTER, FROM MR MARSH, who is now purchasing in the San Francisco market, will explain itself:

GRAND HOTEL, 7th October, 1874.

DEAR BRADLEY: Arrived safely, having had fair average passage. Set at once to work. First called on ——. Paid them $2,500 on account. Got 3 per cent discount on $1,150 not yet due. Mr. —— seemed well pleased; said they had heard rather unfavorable accounts of us from Portland merchants; going ahead too fast; selling goods too low; ruined the trade, etc. Explained the evident animus of such statements. Wanted to call round on the other houses before buying, but Mr. —— would not let me stir—so started in and bought a splendid lot of stuff at really extraordinary low prices. Cleared out 43 pieces of English waterproof and ladies' cloth at 95c—regular price $1 20. These we must sell at $1 per yard and beat the wholesale houses; they can't touch them at that figure. There is a temporary decline in cotton goods, so secured 16 cases leading brands muslins and sheetings. Selling these, as usual, at cost will give us a splendid advantage over all the other stores. Got a line lot, bed-spreads 20 per cent. under regular price. In Blankets I made a special hit. The house had 12 bales on consignment, and being agents for the —— mills, did not wish to exhibit them in competition. Bought the lot. You may think this rather stiff but when you see the splendid quality of these goods you will at once concede this a magnificent purchase. Mark them low, and make a noise. Do not let the country storekeepers gobble all these up, as they did the last cheap lot. Keep them for our regular customers. Got two job lines in Dress Goods to sell at 25c@37½c per yard—50 per cent less than cost of importing. Secured two original cases of the Buffalo Brand silk warp Alpacas at agent's rates. These range in price from 25c to $1. The time is past with us for buying a piece or two. Cleared out several job lines in Flannels, Table Linen, Napkins, Towels, etc., dirt cheap. Also several other goods that can best be purchased at this house. Dined and wined with Mr. ——. Splendid house; magnificently furnished. Met ——.

Tuesday—Called early on ——. Paid our account in full. Same story as to reports. The fact is, the —— evidently "went for us" in very blackness of heart, but our name is a tower of strength that the shot of accident nor dart of chance can neither graze nor pierce. The robbed that smiles steals something from the thief, and we can well smile at these attempts to jostle a brother bearing his load on the rough road of life. The heavy cash remittances we make regularly run them all here. They say the Portland men are generally "long winded." Our getting the Granger trade is also a surprise to many. Purchased a fine lot of Shawls, Hosiery, Men's Shirts, Pants, Ladies' Merino Vests, Woolen Jackets, Trimmings, and all fancy goods at this house. They were most anxious to sell, and as they made considerable reductions in prices, I bought largely. Send you in voices overland. Goods go by John L. Stephens. The shipment from England will arrive by next Panama steamer. The Clothing, Hats, etc., from New York come by rail. When all these are opened out our stock will be the finest on the coast. Will back us up to any extent. He knows we possess the powers ordained to last. His business has doubled this year. This is truly a Golden State, with its golden mines, golden grain and the golden wealth of living manhood and womanhood pouring in at the rate of three hundred daily from all parts of the civilized and uncivilized world. Would that we had railroads to enable us to share this prosperity. S. L. MARSH.

CITY.

A BAD JUMP.—A rather amusing incident transpired on Saturday at the Stark Street Ferry. It was decidedly rough on the river, and it served to afford the crowd a deal of fun at the expense of certain ex-Judge of the Circuit Court of the Fourth Judicial District had occasion to cross to the eastern side of the river during the day. When that gentleman reached the end of the pontoon, he perceived that the ferry-boat was just pushing off. Not a moment was to be lost; so the ex-bearer of judicial ermine started down the steep grade as rapidly as his legs could carry him. He did not prove very fleet on foot, and before he could possibly reach the lower end of the pontoon the boat was several yards from the shore. It was too late to stop, and to have attempted to do so on the edge of the wet, slippery planks would have been hazardous. No alternative remained but to jump, and jump he did. Oh my cosmos! what a jump! rather, what a fall was there, what a jump! rather, what a fall was there, what a jump! Summoning all his strength, the ex-Judge gave a fearful leap, but failed to reach the retreating apron, which quick as a flash dipped from under him, plunging the lower portion of his body clear to the waist into the water. The ex-Judge clung like "grim death" to the apron, and managed to keep the upper half of his body dry. He was rescued from the very awkward and undignified situation, but was a drowned rat, and before he could make a presentable appearance was compelled to go home and change his dress. It was a rough joke on the disciple of Blackstone, but too rich to pass without a hearty laugh.

ARRESTED ON SUSPICION.—Last week two parties named respectively Daniel Conway and William Eckles, were arrested down the river on the charge of complicity in the robbery of Wells, Fargo & Co.'s office at Salem on the 4th of July, 1874. These parties were arrested by Messrs. D. Jacobi and O. D. Buck, who are engaged in a general detective business in the city. The persons making the arrest have for some time been secretly looking after the parties, so it was stated, and after all that they had succeeded in tracing out the real perpetrators of the deed against the express, and in establishing their guilt of or complicity in the same. They were accordingly discharged from custody. We do not think that the officers ought to be thrown in the way of those who are, or have been, engaged in forwarding to the real criminals, but we do think that the public ought to be established to the practice of persons in the guise of detectives going around the State and arresting innocent persons on mere suspicion.

QUISITIVE.—Knights of the razor frequently meet with queer customers. A few days since a six-footer from Yamhill county—[illegible] always happens these fellows hail from [illegible]—sauntered into Adam Blender's, and with reckless air inquired the cost of a [illegible]. He was informed that four bits would compensate the expense of indulging in a "[illegible]," the operation to consist of [illegible] thought the price was [illegible] and requested not to "[illegible]" The proprietor with new customers, and was desirous to have a reputation for his establishment, to which the latter [illegible] customary reply, "[illegible]" thought he could buy [illegible] and would save the expense of [illegible] this view from his capacious pocket a bunch of [illegible] pipes and began to [illegible] at the same time investigating the [illegible] remained tolerably [illegible] they were made of. Of course the [illegible] was unknown to Webster. This was [illegible] Judge] gave a fearful leap, but failed to reach the operation in that [illegible] Blender and they gave vent to their [illegible] by bursting out in loud laughter. One [illegible] friend saw the point and [illegible] laughing as he was disappearing [illegible] floor, that he "couldn't see what they had to laugh about."

TORE OFF HER TAIL.—A well known citizen of East Portland, heretofore in the grocery business, bought a cow a few days ago, and in the evening went out to milk her. The beast was a little restless, and kept throwing her head about the face with her tail while [illegible] sawing from her the desired fluid. So to stop her foolishness for the time being, he gave her a bandage to the face, and attempted her milking difficulty, except that she would [illegible] somewhat viciously. By the time he got [illegible] milking he was a good deal out of patience, and [illegible] as he stirred to leave he gave the animal a kick. She started suddenly, and in [illegible] was bobtailed in a jiffy, leaving the [illegible] her tail tied to the fence. [illegible] times again he will have to keep the [illegible] that cow himself.

HEAVY WIND.—About 2 o'clock on Saturday morning a heavy gale of wind passed over the city, lasting not to exceed fifteen minutes. Little or no damage was done, although the wind was quite severe. The bark Brighton, lying at anchor just above the foot of Stark street, when the wind came up. The violence of the wind forced the vessel [illegible] the stream some distance, dragging her [illegible] anchor. As the cable chain came down and struck the wire by means of which the ferry-boat crosses the river, the latter was [illegible] in twain like a thread. Soon the wind abated, and early next morning the vessel [illegible] anchor and was hauled alongside the wharf, since the wire was parted, the ferry boat [illegible] been steered by a rudder.

PASSENGERS ON THE WAY.—The steamship John L. Stephens sailed from San Francisco on Saturday for Portland. She brings the following passengers: Col. Peter Donahue, J. H. Hall, Rev. R. Bentley, wife and 2 children, W. Downing, L. W. Weinberg, J. D. Ellis, L. Lyburn and son, D. W. Gage, D. C. Dustin, J. L. Atkinson, Mrs. Brazer, S. Osburger, F. Merry, wife and 4 children, J. Newburger, Jos. Hume, W. K. Price, wife and son, J. Shooter and family, A. Schevick, H. Dusenberry, W. J. Snodgrass, H. Winter, N. M. Diggins, G. W. Gray, J. Strazer, Miss Maggie Russell, F. Franklson, J. Parent, wife and 4 children, F. H. Smith.

CHILDREN'S MATINEE.—The Children's Matinee at the Museum Saturday afternoon was a very pleasant affair. Owing to the consignation of a shower of rain just before the time appointed for the opening of the matinee, the number in attendance was not as large as it would otherwise have been, but the little folks—and likewise the grown up children that accompanied them—were highly amused and profitably entertained. As an educational agency, the Museum will prove of great value to the city, and should by all means be encouraged.

A well known ex-Judge of the Circuit Court in the Fourth Judicial District had occasion during the day to cross to the eastern side of the river. Yamhiller thought that the [illegible] must be comfortable at that price, consented to "absolute," but began to press the [illegible] with new ideas. What would [illegible] have a razor shaved?" was the next [illegible] which the urbane Adam made the [illegible] reply, "fifty cents. BUSINESS NOTICES.

The Granger Churn is offered by Mr A Goodnough who is also able to attend to your wants in carpenter work. See ad.

Beck & Waldman will not go or send a representative to the State Fair but will remain at home to look after their numerous customers who are rushing to their place for bargains, which they are sure to get.

Ike Blum will be on the Fair grounds with his best brands of cigars. What he keeps you can depend on. Says he is going to stay all week. Observe the flaming letters in a big ad among the advertisements to-day.

The Clothing Store," is what M Franklin Bros call their cosy establishment on the corner of Alder and Front streets. They are opening their fall and winter goods and announce prices marked down on account of dull times. Observe the schedule of prices in the advertisement which appears on second page. Recollect them when you are inclined to make purchases.

In another column will be found the advertisement of L Samuel. This gentleman contemplates issuing, between now and Christmas a Directory of the City of Portland, complete and reliable in all its details. He also proposes to issue quarterly supplements to the Directory containing all changes and removals which will be furnished the subscribers free of charge. In his Directory for 1875 Mr Samuel proposes to introduce a number of new features surpassing all former publications of this kind, and making it the most complete and elegant Directory yet published in the State.

Bradley, Marsh & Co are out in a new column advertisement which is certainly a novelty in the way of advertising. The letter from Mr Marsh is readable and has about it a business air which is sufficient in itself to attract attention. The patrons of this house are to be surprised when the goods to arrive by the coming steamer are opened and marked ready for sale. We observe their store rooms crowded daily while an army of clerks wish about which guess assurance that they have plenty to do. The firm has advertised liberally and an increase in business is their reward. Be sure to call to-day and if you can't find what you want call again on Wednesday or Thursday when the new goods will be displayed.

THE STAGE.

George S Knight the Dutch comedian, is at the Olympic Theater, New York.

Mr Robert Fulford, the favorite actor accompanied by his wife, and a troupe of artistes, started yesterday for Salem. A house has been leased on the Fair Grounds, and performances will be given every afternoon and evening by Mr Fulford and his company during the coming week. The performances will consist of farces, songs and dances and comical variety business. This will be an attractive class of performances, and will doubtless draw crowded houses.

The "Sea of Ice" was produced at Oro Fino Theater on Saturday night to a jammed house. Throughout the play was rendered well. Specially deserving of mention was the splendid scenic effect and perfect stage appointments produced under the direction of Messrs R C White and W C Dudley. The occasion was one of merry mirth and enthusiasm, and thoroughly enjoyed by all. "Fanchon" was rendered at matinee to a very large house. The performance on Saturday evening concluded the theatrical season and terminated the engagement of Amy Stone. This morning Manager Jess Phelps and her company start for Salem. During the present week the full company will appear at Reed's Opera House. Cigarette will be produced this evening at Salem.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

No shows this week.

Strong indications of rain.

First day of the State Fair.

Circuit Court will convene to-day.

Are you going to the Fair? is the leading question now.

The fat Eastern oysters are becoming popular with epicureans.

The masons are capping the wall around the new Custom House.

The city will be dull this week owing to the great exodus fair-ward.

That the weather the present week may prove pleasant and fair is the sincere wish of all.

The DAILY OREGONIAN is to be had on the Fair grounds of the boy, or at the Blum cigar stand.

Charley Mat left yesterday for Cape Arago lighthouse on Coos Bay, where he will act as assistant lighthouse keeper.

The steamer Ohio made three trips to Salem last week. Hereafter she will leave on Monday Wednesday and Friday. Parties having goods for the Fair will do well to send them by this route.

OUT-DOOR SPORTS.

There is nothing new relative to the College Arcadian final game. The selection of Umpire seems to be the vexed question.

Below we publish the record of the Crescent Base Ball Club of the city since its organization. June 1 1873 Crescent 25 Bishop Scott 19. June 11 Crescent 31 Bishop Scott 29. June 21 Crescent 17 Olympic (Oregon City) 11. June 29 Crescent 27, Olympic 24. July 6 Crescent 40 Spartan 21. April — 1874 Crescent —, Star (Vancouver) 12. May 16 Crescent 27, Star 17. August 1 Crescent 46 Athletes 21. August 15 Crescent 38 Athletes 12. August — Crescent 34 picked nine 29. Sept 10 Crescent 41 Resolutes 27. It will be seen from the above list that the Crescent club has a clear record which they should feel proud of. The rain on Saturday prevented playing the game with the Resolutes. Next Saturday the Crescents which may be justly titled the champion junior club will leave for Salem to play the College Juniors who won a game with the senior club on Friday.

PERSONAL.

Hon Binger Hermann of Oakland is visiting this city with his family.

Among the passengers on board the John L Stephens we note the names of Col Peter Donahue the noted capitalist of California and Rev Mr Bentley the new pastor of the Taylor Street Church.

Don't fail to visit the Museum and see what general changes have been made in the last week.

The fall season has fairly set in and with it our merchants are opening their new stock in large quantities. Among those who have prepared for the rush we find those well and favorably known. Beck & Waldman who are not behind hand in their selections of fall and winter goods. They have added the piece goods wants of customers and accordingly have purchased at the lowest figure, with the object of selling in a short time. Boys' clothing is a specialty with this house and parents should note the fact.

BOARD OF DELEGATES.

[SPECIAL MEETING OCT 10, 1874.]

A special meeting of the Board of Delegates of the Portland Fire Department was held at the Police Court rooms pursuant to call of the President.

Present—Messrs Anders, Moreland and Northup of Willamette No 1; Compton and Hallock of Multnomah No 2; Whalley No 3; Braden, Holman and Wetsel of Protection No 4; Church and Wilcox of Tiger No 5; and Backenstos and DuBois of Vigilance H & L Co.

The meeting was called to order by Mr Whalley, President, who read the call for this meeting.

Communications from the Secretary of Protection Engine Company No 4, was read stating that all fines and dues against D Sunson and Thomas Freeman had been remitted, and that their names had been stricken from the roll and asking that certificates be issued to the persons named in their communications submitted to the Board at its last regular meeting. On motion the communication was placed on file, the proper entries ordered to be made on the register and the Secretary directed to issue the certificates as of the date prayed for.

A communication from the same Company stating that the names of C H Terry, R Heuschuch and Henry Everding had been stricken from the roll of active firemen, and placed on the honorary roll in 1870 but had never been so returned to the Board by the Secretary of the Company, and asking that the Department Register be made to correspond with the facts. The communication was filed and the proper entries ordered made.

On motion it was ordered that no fines be taxed against members of the Board for absence at this meeting.

On motion the Board adjourned.

RESOLUTIONS.

HALL OF WILLAMETTE ENGINE CO No 1, PORTLAND, October 9 1874.

The following resolutions were unanimously adopted by Willamette Engine Company at a meeting held this evening upon their return from the Linn County Fair, to wit:

Resolved That we tender our hearty and sincere thanks to the officers and members of Albany Engine Company No 1 for the hospitable and sumptuous manner in which they received and entertained us on the occasion of our late visit to the Linn County Fair; that we feel that they did all that was possible for our comfort and pleasure, that upon former visits to their city we enjoyed ourselves in the most agreeable manner, and that the many happy incidents and occurrences of the last few days will long be remembered as among the most pleasant of our experience also.

Resolved That the officers and members of the Linn County Agricultural Society have our sincere thanks and kindest regards for the many courtesies extended us, and the thoughtful arrangements made for the working of our steamer, while attending their Fair also.

Resolved That the kind treatment which we received from the ladies and citizens of Albany entitle them to our greatest esteem, and will strengthen the friendship which we have always entertained for the dwellers in that thriving city also.

Resolved That a copy of these resolutions be sent to Albany Engine Company No 1, and to the Linn County Agricultural Society, also to the Albany newspapers and the dailies of this city.

PEOPLE'S CONVENTION OF COWLITZ CO.

KALAMA, October 9 1874.

The Cowlitz County People's Convention met in Kerns Hall, Kalama on Friday, October 9 1874 and nominated the following ticket:

Representative J S Huntington, Joint Representative J Bozarth, Auditor B L Woolsey, Sheriff R C Smith, Assessor A Patton, Coroner C H Stockton, Surveyor A C Smith, Treasurer J Orchard, Probate Judge A C Smith; Commissioners, Wm Pumphreys, Nathan Davis and E Shonhorst, Justices of the Peace (Kalama Precinct) S W Beale and A C Smith.

Resolved That the proceedings be publish in the Portland papers, Puget Sound Courier and Vancouver Register.

T J HOSFORD, Chairman.
C H STOCKTON, Secty.

We have another account of a meeting and nominations by The People's County Convention of Cowlitz county, which does not tally with the above. As we do not possess the requisite information to decide which of these Conventions was in very truth The People's Convention, and as the question is pretty sure to be decided nearly right on election day by the people themselves we present the other account without comment.

The People's County Convention of Cowlitz county W T met in Kalama October 2 1874 and made the following nominations for Legislative and County officers:

Representative, J B Fabin; Joint Representative H D Huntington; Sheriff J B Stone; Auditor H H Holt; Treasurer F G Ingalls; Assessor C C Beardh; Probate Judge S H Whitehouse; County Commissioners G H Gray, G Love; Wm Jackson; County Surveyor A C Smith; Coroner Geo Strong.

Speaking of the action of the Faculty of Witherspoon Institute in inviting John Hipple to deliver an address at the institution, a Pittsburg paper says:

If "Witherspoon" and the two reverend gentlemen that are to appear on the platform with John can stand it so can we. We venture to hint however, that whatever the effect may be in Butler outside of it the yard will scarcely prove a paying one to the Institute. Is Brigham Young engaged for the next anniversary?

The residences of two Salemites were entered by burglars a few nights ago and a number of articles of jewelry and clothing were stolen. The next day some of the stolen property was found where the thieves had secreted it, and a policeman set to watch them. He accordingly hid in the neighborhood and after dark observed a Chinaman, as he supposes, approach the spot and take the clothing. He shouted at him to surrender, which the fellow was not in limited to do but started off on a run. The policeman fired three shots at him without any known effect and the chap managed to make good his escape.

Ashland has 107 dwelling houses and many more in construction while 72 families live move and have their being within her pleasant limits. Allowing five members to each family we have 360 inhabitants and this is a reasonable calculation besides there are many residents without families.

A young man named John Johns, formerly of Salem has disappeared from Albany under circumstances which lead to the belief that he has committed suicide but how or where no one can yet tell.

That universal tobacco the best brands of Havana and domestic cigars meerschaum pipes tubes etc are the articles Buchman next to Walter Bros can supply you with.

If you want something that is new and nobby in the way of clothing, we would advise you to call on KOHN who recently bro't up and his new stock fill so goods. He is in the best humor over the fact that he has the finest stock in town. When you have time call and look over the goods and life generously you why you can put yourself to a great deal of clothing, and that too at reasonable charges.

YOUR FALL CLOTHING.—Its time to order your early fall Clothing now and of course you know that you should order from JOHN O'NEILL & CO'S. Fit better than ever before and for hard wear it is everybody in mind at for hard wear it is not to mention get away with their establishment in any respect. They have at present a large stock which will be sold at the very least 15c. Mr O'N is having selected only a few days ago everything that is new in the San Francisco houses. Orders of goods superiority of make, best of style in manufacture, prices we commend J O'NEILL & Co.

EPISCOPAL CONGRESS.

NEW YORK, October 6th.

The afternoon session of the Episcopal Congress was held in Association Hall which was densely crowded. In the absence of the Bishop of New York Rev Dr Vinton of Massachusetts presided.

After opening with religious exercises the Chairman said that the aim of the Church Congress was to lift up the mind of churches to the sphere where difficulties and quarrels cease. The Church Congress had invited men of all doctrines and creeds to meet for discussion—thus coming together in cool blood to discuss vital and important questions that tend to the unity they desired to accomplish. Men of all classes had been called and all classes were represented and would each be allowed equal time for discussion which would be open and free. He announced the subject for discussion for the afternoon session: The Proper Limits of Legislation as to Doctrine and Ritual.

The first speaker was Rev Dr John Cotton Smith of New York. He said the limits to ritual and doctrine in the Episcopal Church was self imposed. He regards special legislation on these subjects with great distrust, and calculated rather to retard than to aid the progress of the Church. He said special legislation would tend to favor and spread the introduction of mediævalism in the Church of this nineteenth century. We are the only body he said which can be claimed to have a comprehensive Church offering no obstacles to fellowship in communion.

Rev Dr Hugh Miller Thompson of New York read the next paper. He said the dogma of the immaculate conception and infallibility were never taught by the Church. They were nothing to her. This was an usurpage of dogmas and it behooved the Church to guard herself. He himself did not admire Calvinism as he thought it tended to loose living in Christian religions. The Church has ever been loth to change her forms as they have enshrined her faith. If any ritualism is calculated to injure the Church it should be cut off, no matter how beautiful. The Church would ever tell the same old changeless story.

Rev B S Huntingdon could not see why we might not do away with the terms high churchman and low churchman, and unite on the broad basis of Catholic churchmen. A celebrated clergyman had said that if he were allowed to alter fifteen words in the prayer book he would have fifteen thousand converts and he (the speaker) would say that if in one of the forms of the baptismal service he was allowed to change the word shall into may much good would result to the church.

Bishop Whipple of Minnesota thought the question about which they were asked to legislate did not concern their religion. There was one great doctrine on which they all agreed—the doctrine of the atonement. He believed we had too great a number of canons to day to tell the minister or the bishop what he was to do or not to do. What he wanted was not as much legislation as working together hand in hand for the Master.

MONDAY MORNING OCTOBER 12 1874

RICH MEN OF NEW YORK.

WHO THE MILLIONAIRES OF THE METROPOLIS ARE —HOW THEY MADE THEIR MONEY

As our tax-roll is now [illegible], and as the race will be confined as soon as the August vacation is finished, the capitalists of the city are contemplating with much interest the amounts which may be levied upon them. Personal [illegible] often escape taxation, while landed property has to bear the brunt of the burden. The former however, is fully in proportion to the latter, even though real estate figures at $884 000 000 while the other is not more than one quarter that amount. The bank stock represented in this city is not less than $75 000 000 while thrice that sum is represented in the capital of her merchants. Add to that such property as ships, steamboats, railroads, gas companies and similar value and you will rapidly reach a sum of immense proportions. There are coal stocks and bonds held in this city to an amount exceeding $30 000 000.

LARGEST PROPRIETOR.

The chief holder of personal estate in this city is Commodore Vanderbilt, who is estimated at $40,000 000 the largest part of which is in railway property. He owns enough in the Connecticut river and New Haven [illegible] to be a Director in each and he also owns the controlling interest in the Central, Hudson and Lake Shore besides his stock in Ohio and Mississippi and other important roads. It was said of George Peabody that he made almost the entire bulk of his enormous wealth after his fiftieth year. Think a stronger statement can be made of the Commodore for he made the largest part of his money since he was sixty—that is within the last score of years.

I suppose that when the war broke out he was not worth $5 000 000. The incessant and enormous increase of railroad values and the [illegible] extent of his operations have brought an increase so stupendous as to remind one of the old stories of Oriental magic. When the stock of the Central was doubled it added at least an additional ten millions to his capital. Approaching from the different lines under his control must be six millions per year. He has the cream of the passenger traffic which he obtains by forming the sleeping-car company. This company is simply the Commodore, Webster, Wagner, and a few other lucky men who obtain the privilege of running their cars and collecting their extra fare. The railroad track and the motive power, with all expense of which tenders station agents etc., furnished free to this favored circle, which simply puts with a sleeping car and collects about $50 per trip. A sleeping car should make $15 000 per year, and the company which the Commodore controls runs not less than one hundred. With respect to the Commodore's personal estate, it may be estimated as equal to that of a score of our richest men.

ASTOR'S FIGURES.

Next to the Co[illegible] William B Astor. His share in real estate while that of the Commodore is personal, but still Astor is rated at five millions of the latter and ten times that amount in the former. These men are about of an age, having [illegible] four score and their lives have been spent simply in making money. There is a difference in their personal experience corresponding to their [illegible] of wealth. The Commodore is tall and [illegible] ently built, while Astor is ponderous and heavy, with a face as dull as the Commodore's is brilliant. The one is made of clay, while the other is quicksilver. Astor owns a large amount of Manhattan Island property, while [illegible] also cost a song for stock. His co-partnership in the Delaware and Hudson Canal company (which is our chief coal corporation) is so large that his son, John Jackson, has been made a Director. Astor is now said to be accumulating personal property very rapidly. He buys no land, on account of its extraordinary high price, and as the income of the estate is about $5,000,000 a year it is a fine chance for laying up money.

MORRIS TAYLOR.

This man is estimated as holding about $5,000,000 in personal property, the largest part of which is in coal stock. Taylor is about 70 [illegible] road [illegible], but he is one of the [illegible] men in America. In real penetration he stands next to Vanderbilt. His father was a life-long clerk for John Jacob Astor who [illegible] on in his land office, but only paid him a small salary. It may be strange that a young man reared in a real estate office should not have devoted himself to that specialty but such was not the result. I think that the ambitious Moses became tired of the slow movement of houses and lands and wanted something more active. In gratifying this ambition he has succeeded to a remarkable degree, and he has been fortunate in almost every thing he undertook. He was the finest-looking as well as the most gifted business man of the day, and has been as fortunate as he is good looking.

Thirty years ago there was a report that he intended to retire on a fortune of $500 000 but he was of too active a habit to do this, and hence he accepted the Presidency of the City Bank. Since then he has made more money than ever before by street operations. He works hard and hopes, no doubt, in time, to reach a competency, but as yet finds himself unsatisfied. As a man of wealth he holds but little real estate but prefers bank shares, gas stock and coal stock, and what he holds is the choicest investment. These stocks have [illegible] in value in his hands.

GEORGE LAW.

He is another instance of the same preference, for, while in point of real estate he owns [illegible] only his Fifth avenue mansion, he holds a million in his personal property. He owns the Dry Dock Bank, and also the largest part of the Eighth avenue horse railroad. The [illegible] of this [illegible] was found in 1864, and it is worth twice its original cost. He is [illegible] $6,000,000. Twenty-five years ago George was a prominent man in the Native American party, and some of his friends thrust him forward as a candidate for the Presidency, under the title of "Live Oak George." He then owned [illegible] ships, which he has since sold. Of late he has fallen out of notice. He was at the [illegible] man in public estimation when the Commodore had since then the latter has utterly distanced him. This is in no small degree due to the physical difference. Law was a large fellow, of [illegible] size, but time has changed him into [illegible] and [illegible]. Hence his nobility is almost gone, while the Commodore bears his years with a mien worthy. George Law was born in [illegible], N Y, and was [illegible] man, at which he [illegible] be wrought for about ten years. He afterward took contracts, and showed great [illegible] in execution. Nearly forty years ago [illegible] was [illegible], and Law got the contract for building the high bridge over Harlem river. This is 800 feet long and 90 feet high, and was built in so fine and substantial manner that it will stand till overthrown by an earthquake, or some [illegible] power. Law cleared $100,000 on the job which was the richest contract ever made in this State up to the present time. He afterward operated in Harlem stock, when it was down to $8 for shares that cost $100 and in this he made a great hit. After this came the building of the Panama Railroad, in which he cleared a large sum, and his California steamboats also proved very profitable. In this manner the former stone [illegible] obtained his position among the magnates of personal estate.—Cincinnati Gazette.

THE COLONEL RETURNS.—Colonel Cornelius has returned to Salem to help get the money on those road jobs. The State owes the Colonel and his friends some $60,000 in bonds for building (?) the Tillamook Nehalem and other roads in this State. Ten thousand dollars was appropriated for the Tillamook road, and $5,000 was actually expended on the road. Twenty thousand dollars were appropriated for the Nehalem and Astoria road and $16 000 of the amount was expended on seven miles of the road. And so on with the other road appropriations. These bonds were bought up by our Senator and his friends who got the bills through, at thirty cents on the dollar and the State pays the honorable gentleman ten per cent. interest on the bonds. A pretty fat thing for our Senator and his confederates.—Forest Grove Independent.

The Ohio and Indiana Democrats have been handsomely snubbed by the Democrats of nearly every other State, and notably by the Democrats of Pennsylvania and New York on the currency question. While Ohio and Indiana resolved in favor of repudiation and inflation the other States decided in favor of honest and sound money. The road to power does not lie through mountains of inconvertible paper money and repudiation obligations. The majority of Democratic Conventions see this, and favor the honest course.—Cincinnati Gazette.

BRITISH COLUMBIA

Cyrus Pointing alias Shanghai Charley died in the Royal Hospital on Friday, the 2d.

An old servant of the Hudson Bay Company, who came to Langley in 1827, died there the other day.

The Chilliwhack Agricultural Exhibition was held last week and was very successful in every respect.

On its passing New Westminster on Tuesday of last week the Enterprise encountered dense fogs which delayed her for five hours.

The C P R survey party under J Trutch is camped seven miles to Chilliwhack. They left the mountain range at Cheam, and have taken the line of the New Yagon road.

The annual shooting match of the British Columbia Rifle Association was held last week. The number of competitors was large but the public was conspicuous by their absence.

A gentleman from Cowichan states that the harvest has been bountiful but the complaint common in Saanich Comox and other districts is heard there is no market for the produce.

An inquest upon the body of Mr Richard Haslem who was killed at Newcastle Nanaimo by the fall of the roof of the mine resulted in a verdict of death from accidental causes.

The sights presented on board the steamer Lillooet when she arrived with the cattle ten of which had died during the passage from Hope, is described by the New Westminster press as sickening.

Eleven fine steers from Lowe & Haynes farm Osoyoos and intended for the Victoria market were smothered on board the steamer Lillooet at Chilliwhack on Friday night. They were trampled upon and overlaid by the others of the herd.

Five children of Harry Simpson of South Saanich, were thrown from a bridge on the East road, on Saturday, the 3d by the shying of a horse. One of the children was driving, and one of them seriously injured. The horse shied at a hole in the bridge.

Nanaimo bridge is finished. George Baker, Superintendent of Bridges, on behalf of the Provincial Government tested the new bridge by driving over the structure a yoke of oxen and cart the latter containing about a ton weight of merchandise. The first test was by walking the oxen over slowly, the second was by driving the oxen and their load at their highest rate of speed, and the result was that the bridge was perfectly safe and secure showing no sign of vibration whatever.

BRADLEY RESTORED TO THE BAR.—Washington Sept 28.—James H Bradley who was disbarred from the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, during the trial of John H Surratt in 1867, for alleged contempt of court, and who was afterwards charged with sending a threatening message to the Justice holding that Court (Judge Fisher), has to-day restored to the list of attorneys on motion of Thomas J Durant. In granting the motion, Chief Justice Carter said the Court had been informally advised of this matter, and had unanimously agreed to grant it. They considered whatever had been passed had been abundantly atoned for, and they should welcome Mr Bradley as a member of the Bar with pleasure. The Court room was filled by members of the Bar who, with the greatest unanimity, applauded the remarks of the Court, and gathered around Mr Bradley to congratulate him.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE
NEW REMEDY!
Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary
623 KEARNEY STREET
NEAR [illegible]
San Francisco, Cal.
1854, for the speedy and Permanent Cure of Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Syphilis in all its Stages, Weakness, Impotency, Diseases of the Urinary Organs, Unnatural Losses, Seminal Weakness, Etc., Etc.

DR. GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing to the afflicted that he has returned from visiting the Hospitals of Europe, and has resumed practice at his old residence 623 Kearney street, San Francisco where his old friends and patients can rely on consulting him as heretofore. The Doctor has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies and has secured increased facilities for the alleviation of suffering.

Horrible Disease!
How many thousands of young and middle aged men and females are there who are suffering from the horrible existence from the effects of secret indiscretion, suffering from virus absorbed into the system, pale faced emaciated and haggard in appearance, have entered the upper parlors of society, broken-down constitutions, and Alabama, to the happiness of married life or the single state. In this horrid situation thousands drag out a miserable existence, and finally closes the scene.
